Move to LIPIcs

- Why change from Springer LNCS?
 - Strong desire for open access, but Springer charges 30-40 euros/page
 - Some concerns about "light technical copy-editing" becoming intrusive and damaging
- LIPIcs is open-access initiative run by Dagstuhl
 - Provides open access at 60 euros/paper
 - Used happily by ECOOP, ICALP, CSL
 - (Lose Springer student travel grants ~ 1000 euros)

Move to LIPIcs (2)

- SC approved move to LIPIcs
 - Absorb cost into registration fees
 - Five-year commitment (but not next year)
- Experience has generally been very good so far
 - No copy-editing complaints
 - There may be some indexing issues (google scholar)
- There will still be a special issue of Springer Journal of Automated Reasoning
 - Stay tuned for details

Other Topics

- Need clearer mechanism/standard for submitting artifacts (our fault)
- Double-blind reviewing?
- Add an author rebuttal period? Add meta-reviewing?
- Record talks for Youtube/...?
- Increase final paper length?
- Decrease conference length?
- Carbon credits?
- Restore student travel grants...
